Dear California Civil Engineering Surveying Exam Candidate,

The Board regrets the inconvenience caused by the cancelation of yesterday's Engineering Surveying examination throughout the state. The examination was canceled due to a printing error in many of the examination booklets. Although random exam books were checked for accuracy, unfortunately a large percentage were prepared and sealed with the correct cover but incorrect content that hindered detection of the printing error. The completion of the examination, even for those candidates that had received the correctly printed booklets, could not proceed. It was quickly determined by Board staff that there were an insufficient number of correctly printed booklets available and in all fairness to everyone, the entire Engineering Surveying examination was canceled on a state wide basis. Please note that Board staff uniformly followed standard protocol for an examination security issue.

Rest assured that the Board is attempting to coordinate with the examination sites to reschedule the Engineering Surveying examination at the same locations in as reasonable amount of time as possible, in consideration of those who have studied so hard in preparation for this examination. Candidates scheduled to sit for the April 2012 Civil Engineering Surveying examination will not be charged additional fees for rescheduling and attending this examination as this unfortunate incident was not due to the fault of the candidates.

Please feel free to contact me if you require additional assistance regarding this situation.

Sincerely,
